Give a Pollution Hoot

Pollution is a bad word that is getting more and more people up tight.

Concern over pollution is coming to the kind of climax that can only result in stronger laws with sharper teeth. It will have a severe effect on our comfortable living routine.

Already, many of us have smog devices on our cars. Most of us are under the covenant of an anti-burning regulation. Drop litter on the freeway and it may cost $500 in fines. These are punitive encroachments on a casual way of life—partial payment for our ecological sins.

Business firms have long since felt the anti-pollution pressure. Some firms have closed because of the high cost of correcting their pollutional habits.

But this is addressed to the average citizen who not only wants a cleaner environment but he wants fewer, rather than more laws. The thoughtful citizen knows he cannot single-handedly stop a factory from pouring deadly industrial wastes into a lake. Only strong government regulations can control this. Most citizens feel frustrated because he finds no suitable program by which he can make his contribution. That may be changed. At least an advisory program has been started and it is geared to individual effort.

The program is built around a cartoon figure named "Woody Owl". He will lead those who would take off down the anti-pollution trail in a manner somewhat like that of Smokey Bear and his stamp-out-forest-fires caper.

Woody is a cute figure with owl-like eyes (what else) and a hat that is strictly out of Robin Hood. He is better protected than Smokey. It is strictly forbidden to use Woody commercially. A stiff fine will follow conviction.

In Woody's first advisory were 104 items which he says would help reduce pollution. They follow his slogan "Give a Hoot! Don't Pollute!" and we are reproducing enough of them here to get any latent anti-pollutionist started.

We are listing some of Woody's 104 answers to the pollution problem. Some of them are good—very good. And some are extremely bad. But if anti-pollution is your bag, grab a couple and go to work.

Collect cans, bottles and papers and take them to the nearest recycling center. If there are no such centers, contact your county officer and encourage establishment of such centers.

Don't throw away old clothes or furniture. Give them to someone who can use or repair them or repair and sell. Everything that doesn't land in the trash pile means that much less to be burned or disposed of in some other way.

Start an "ecology cupboard" in your home. Store reusable items like string, paper, boxes, cartons, plastic containers, ribbon, yarn. Reuse them before discarding.

Encourage companies to raise the bottle-deposit sum to encourage the return of bottles.

When possible, ride your bike or walk to meetings, school, work, etc.; encourage others to do the same.

Put metal tabs from drink cans and plastic carriers for six-packs in trash cans. They are hazardous to animals as well as being a litter problem.

Encourage local officials to reduce noise pollution along freeways and heavily travelled streets by proper tree and shrub plantations.

Encourage everyone, including park officials, to plant "just one more" tree or shrub. Trees play a major part in purifying the air; the oxygen they release dilutes pollution of the air. Trees also help regulate temperature; tree transpiration cools the air like a gigantic air conditioner.

Place small pieces of leftover soap in a discarded nylon hose; give it to a child to bubble up their bath. This uses up bits of soap, recycles the piece of nylon hose and cleans the younger generation, all at the same time.

Put a brick in your tank! A brick in your toilet tank reduces the amount of water used to flush.

Pull your lawn weeds out by hand. This is good healthful exercise and eliminates the need for applying herbicides.

Some dyestuffs do not break down biologically and should be regarded with a wary eye. White tissues and paper do not contain dye.

Accumulated wire coat hangers can be tied in bundles and returned to your cleaner for reuse. If you throw them out you add immensely to the garbage problem.

Clean, clear and disinfect sinks and drains with ordinary table salt. Salt is not toxic, and it has antiseptic and disinfectant properties, as well as abrasive, cleansing ones.

Help decrease the mountains of garbage we generate each day by using cloth napkins.

Don't use washers and dryers during peak electrical load hours (5-7 p.m.). The strain on your local generating station may add to air pollution.

Encourage local newspapers and civic club publications to public facts on progress being made to help stop pollution. Help keep everyone informed.

Discourage erection of signs that contribute to sight pollution.

Seek elimination or control of horn blasts (such as the freight train which rumbles through Lemon Grove blasting away at its whistle). Whistles or other loud sounds add to noise pollution.

Encourage local home builders to develop a program of leaving as many trees as possible when they develop a subdivision.

Teach your children a reverence for life; inspire them with a knowledge of Nature. This will encourage them to work for and demand a cleaner environment throughout their lives.

Encourage your utilities firms to place their lines underground.

Work with department stores and telephone companies to help collect old directories and catalogs for recycling.

As you can see, there is something for everyone. If you are already involved in some project, pass one of these tips to someone else—someone who hasn't the self-discipline to think up and start a project on his own.

Who Needs the United Crusade?

Who needs the United Crusade?

The troubled, the ill, the aged, the handicapped? Yes—but so do the happy, the healthy, the well-adjusted, the rich and the young.

Why should residents of our more prosperous residential areas be concerned with services offered by the United Crusade?

First, because their support of United Crusade agencies and services means a better community. And, more concretely, Continued on Page 8

Melting Wax Cause Of Two Local Fires

Two Lemon Grove homes were damaged last week when candle wax left in ovens caught fire.

Last Tuesday afternoon, Lemon Grove Fire Department men received a call from the Georgia Fike home, at 2557 Cypress st., where about $100 damage was caused when the wax caught fire in the oven.

Saturday night, a second candle wax blaze broke out—this time at the Joseph Smith home, 1550 La Corta, causing estimated damage of $3,500 to the kitchen.

Fire Chief Fred Dixon, in commenting on the dangers of melting wax, listed a few simple rules which will minimize danger.

When melting wax in an oven, he said, set the oven thermostat at under 275 degrees, which will enable the wax to melt readily but not provide enough heat to ignite it.

Secondly, be sure that youngsters are kept away from the oven or instruct them not to touch knobs on the stove.

Lastly, be very cautious when handling a pan or bowl of melted wax, as severe burns can be caused by spills.

One other fire last week caused property damage. Firemen were summoned to the Shell gas station at 3301 College ave. Friday night where a gas pump had broken off and caught fire. Damage was estimated at $100.

High School District Offers Lunch Program

Free or reduced price lunches are available to students in the Grossmont Union High School District who fall within Federal and State standards, according to Robert A. Beaudoin, Food Service Supervisor.

Information and application forms have already been sent to all parents, Beaudoin said, but those who overlooked the opportunity and feel they might qualify may obtain information from their local school. The district includes Mt. Miguel and Monte Vista High Schools.

In addition, emergency meals are available to students whose family has suffered sudden loss of income due to unemployment, illness, death, desertion, delay in receipt of pay, or other causes.

In such cases the student's word shall be accepted at face value, and school officials will immediately investigate the claim and determine how long free or reduced price meals should continue.

Two Rescued From Manhole

Two men who collapsed after breathing sewer gas in Spring Valley were treated and released at area hospitals.

Gerald L. Brown, 28, of 2033 Bonita st., Lemon Grove was cleaning debris from sewer lines in a manhole on Greenview place Wednesday, when he collapsed, according to co-worker Juan Silva, 50, of San Diego.

When the mishap occurred, Silva said, he contacted some carpenters working in the area to summon aid, then went into the manhole himself. He was able to lift Brown out of the water in which he was submerged and prop him up before losing consciousness himself.

Both men were taken from the manhole shortly after 4 p.m. by Spring Valley Fire Department rescue crews. Brown was transported to Grossmont Hospital where he was under intensive care until for a time, and Silva was taken to Paradise Valley Hospital, where he was treated and released Thursday.

District To Seek Money When Classrooms Crowded

The Lemon Grove School District Board of Trustees Tuesday night made a landmark decision in adopting a policy statement for dealing with subdividers on the question of providing for school facilities.

The policy of the district will now be to ask subdividers for money to provide school facilities when a subdivision would create an increase in enrollment which could not be handled satisfactorily by existing school facilities.

No money will be sought from developers as long as space is available to meet the demands of any increase in enrollment resulting from a development in the district.

Once facilities are in capacity use, however, developers would be asked to pay $300 per dwelling unit constructed, with the money to be used for renting portable classrooms and otherwise creating more classroom space.

The policy statement was adopted as amended following a conference with Deputy County Counsel Paul Marks.

The major consideration necessary before adoption of the policy was a question of legality. Under similar policies used by other school districts in the county, school districts have demanded the money from developers, and if it was not received, the districts refused to give a statement to the subdividers stating that facilities are available.

A recent court decision has determined that it is not legal for districts to refuse to give a statement of facilities. The decision did not rule on the legality of the policy and it is believed that districts could state that facilities are not available and still remain within the law.

The Lemon Grove District policy calls for money from subdividers only when facilities are not available to meet the needs of an enrollment increase. The district will, if payment is not received, state that facilities are inadequate to handle the increase. Superintendent Bob Sutton indicated that the policy was necessary to avoid enrollment increases which would endanger the district's ability to provide education.

He also said that it is hoped that the district would not have to put the policy to use. In other action, trustees accepted a report on bids for the construction of a warehouse and approved a certificate of

Bank of Tokyo

Bank Opens

SAN DIEGO (Spcl) — There was an international flavor to the Tuesday opening of the Bank of Tokyo of California.

Three youngsters of the Bayside Settlement broke a Mexican pinata with an American baseball bat and came away with all the goodies that had been placed therein by Japanese bank officials.

The San Diego branch, at 201 "A" st., is the bank's 15th office in California. Masao Tsuyama, its president, here for the opening ceremonies, said the new office now links San Diego with the global Bank of Tokyo network and offers full domestic as well as international banking services.

Thomas M. Umekubo, a native San Diegan, is manager of the new branch.

'Blaze' Is Just Valve

'Letting Off Steam'

Bancroft Elementary School in Spring Valley caught fire last week — or so it was thought.

Firemen answered a call at 12:49 p.m. Thursday, but discovered that the "blaze" was actually only a thermostatic valve which released, sending steam throughout the building.

Firemen turned off the valve and waited for the system to cool down before activating it. Damage was listed as one door, warping under the heat and moisture.

Better Water Due Via Helix When Feather River Flows Here

Let's not cut the State of California in half — yet.

There's too much good news coming out of the north to whack it apart.

The good news is an added supply of water. It will be coming from the recently completed Oroville Dam which collects it from the Feather River before heading it south to mix with Sacramento River water. The mix is transported by a series of aqueducts and pushed by pumping stations on down to Perris Dam. Perris Dam is reaching the final stages of completion. Oroville water will flow into it before the summer. Some of it should find its way into local households late in 1973 or early 1974. It will be mixed with the Colorado River water now being delivered here for a better quality product. The mixture will be a less-hard and tastier than today's water.

How this is being accomplished was graphically shown last week when a group of prominent local people completed a three-day tour along the water's route from Oroville to Perris as guests of the Helix and Metropolitan Water districts.

Such tours, he said, are conducted to keep civic leaders informed regarding the state's most important resource — water.

The tour included seeing water facilities being developed and viewing the growing number of facilities. Guests had talks with water experts and a better understanding of the needs and objectives resulted, Griffen said.

Learn Spanish The Easy Way

Hardison's Telespanish

By JAMES HARDISON

A suffix of prime interest is "oso." We may change many Spanish nouns to adjectives simply by adding "oso" or "osa." A case in point might be "luvia" (rain). We may remove the letter "a" and add "oso" to construct the new word "lluvioso" (rainy). This word may be expressed in phrases like "Hoy es un dia lluvioso." (Today is a rainy day.) and "No es un clima lluvioso." (It is not a rainy climate.)

"Fango" is one way to say "mud." By adding the suffix "oso" we construct "fangoso" (muddy). Thus we may say "No me gusta el rio fangoso." (I don't like the muddy river.) and "Parece un poco fangoso el agua." (The water seems to be a little muddy.)

"Fama" means "fame." By adding the suffix "oso" we construct "famoso" which means "famous." This may appear in phrases like "Es un hombre famoso." (He is a famous man.) and "Uno es mas famoso que el otro." (One is more famous than the other.)

"Maravilla" (a marvel) may be converted to "maravilloso" (marvelous) by adding the suffix "oso." We may use this word in phrases like "El nuevo cine es maravilloso." (The new movie is marvelous.) and in the feminine form we may say "Ella es una mujer maravillosa." (She is a marvelous woman.)

"Roca" is the Spanish word for "rock." The adjective for this word is "rocoso." This permits us to describe areas like "camino rocoso" (rocky road) and "playa rocosa" (rocky beach).

Additional phrases that reflect the use of the suffix "oso" are listed below for your continued learning pleasure. You may wish to practice saying them with the aid of the recorded voice that says them for you when you dial 276-2762.

IMPORTANT PHRASES:

Changes Made On High School Employee Rolls

Both Monte Vista and Mt. Miguel High Schools have several new additions to the certificated and classified employee rolls this year.

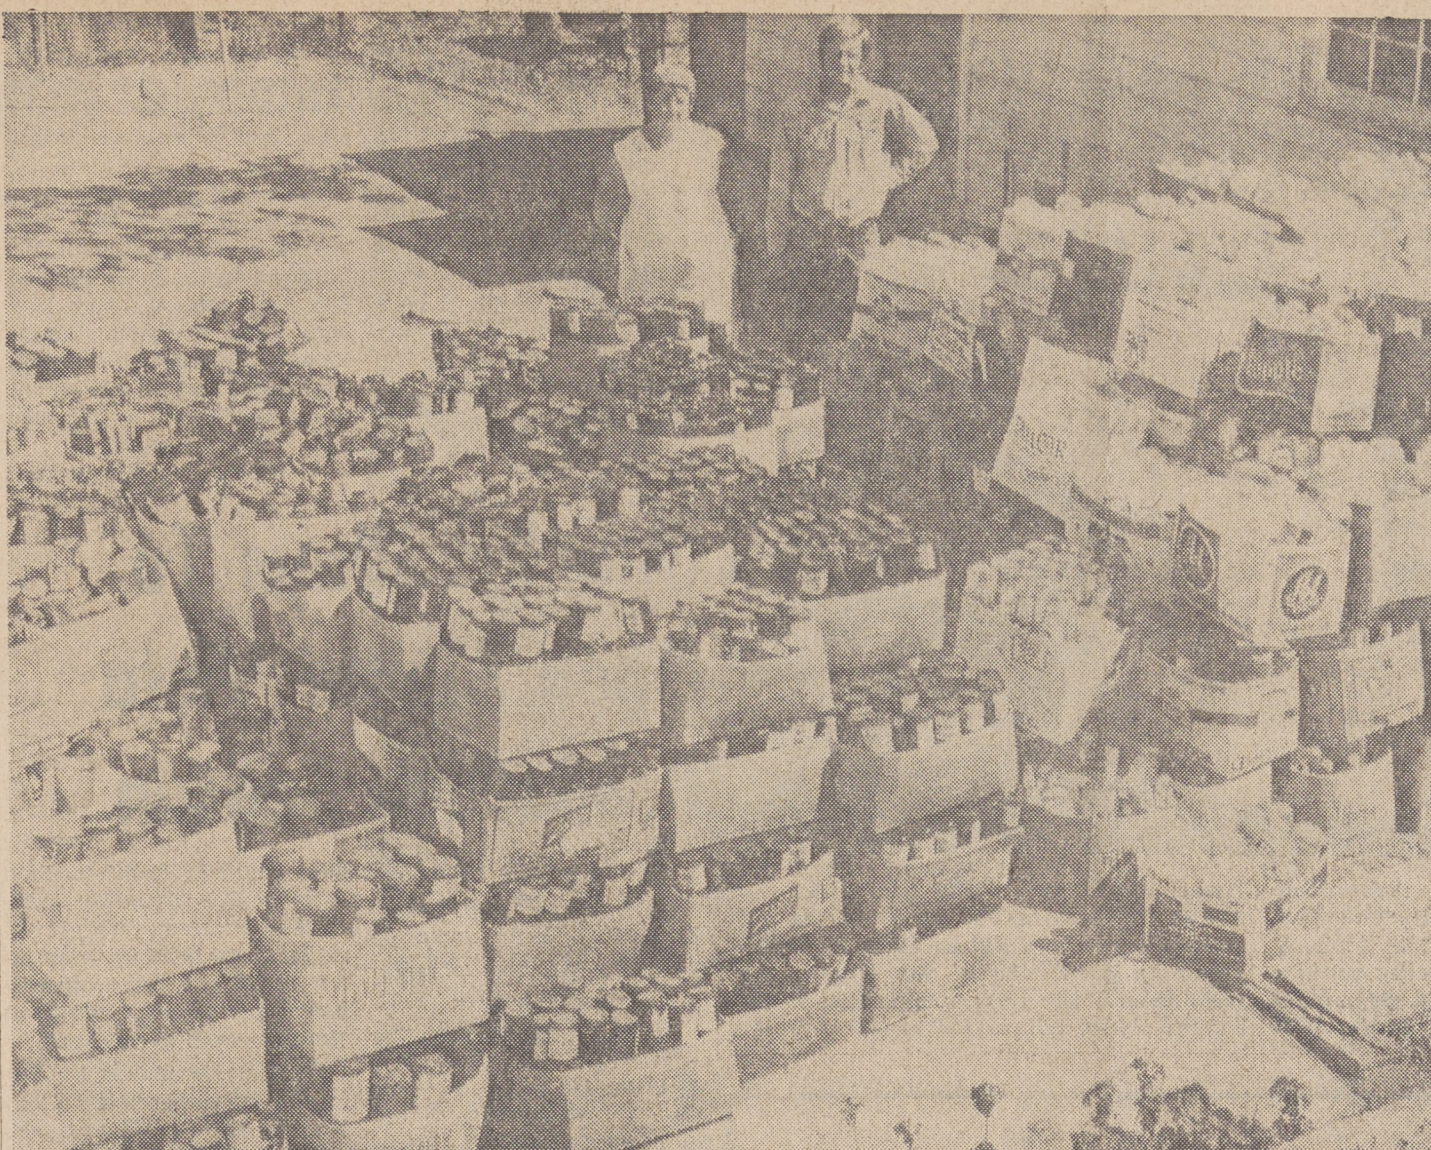

New teachers at Mt. Miguel include geography instructor Amando Cunahan, English teacher Barbara Hamilton, business teacher Donald Le Compte, math instructors Rudolph Marik and Deborah Stone, and music teacher Linda McClain.

Additionally, Mt. Miguel has two new certificated employees in the administrative offices. They are vice principal James Finch and ESEA counselor Robert Vega.

New Monte Vista teachers include Lawrence Barlow, industrial arts; Daniel Barry, history; Carol Cummins, home economics; Mildred Fitzgerald, reading; Dr. John Huffman, math; George Mentas, English; and Joanne Preston, girls' physical education.

In addition to certificated personnel, three new classified employees are at work at Monte Vista, and one is at Mt. Miguel. Rosalind Brodwood is Monte Vista's new book clerk, and Jeannette Miller and Debra Forrester are new clerk typists at the school. Forrest Leaky is a new custodian at Mt. Miguel.

Actor Rudolph Valentino died 46 years ago.

RECYCLERS — Mrs. Evelyn Houtz, of 7315 San Miguel ave., Lemon Grove, looks over 21,003 glass bottles along with Phil Carroll, of La Mesa Disposal prior to sending the glass to the San Diego Ecology Center for recycling. The glass, which weighed a total of 8½ tons, was transported by La Mesa Disposal voluntarily. Glass, which is worth $20 a ton, can be recycled locally through the Ecology Center, which doesn't pay anything, or through a plant in Santa Ana, where the $20 is paid. To recycle glass through Santa Ana, it must be separated by color, free of metals, and delivered. To recycle glass through the Ecology Center, collect a few tons then give the center a ring at 280-4820 to arrange for transportation.

'Impressionists' Tops College Film Series

The origins and development of Impressionist painting from Corot and the Barbizon painters to Monet, will be explored when the third program of the color film series "Museum Without Walls" is screened at Cinema Grossmont at 11 a.m., Monday.

"The Impressionists" will be screened with two other penetrating films, "Kinetic Art in Paris" and "The Art Conservator" to complete the three-part program.

Four years in production under Universal Studio's Educational and Visual Arts department, "Museum Without Walls" is being presented in a series of five programs by Grossmont College's Office of Community Services.

"The Impressionists" presents new insight into Impressionist techniques by quoting the masters themselves. Much of the commentary is composed of excerpts from contemporary art critics.

Papakube Corporation To Offer Ecological, Monetary Advantages

A new business will be opening soon in San Diego which will offer ecological and monetary advantages for local residents and organization as well as foreign countries.

Papakube Corporation, which will be opening next month, will provide an inexpensive method of shipping waste paper to pulp-poor countries, while at the same time reducing the volume of waste paper going into area landfills, according to Papakube president Gerald Nelson.

The business is built around a revolutionary process of preparing waste paper for transportation.

In the process, the paper is first shredded, then mixed with an adhesive and compressed into cubes, slightly larger than an elongated ice cube.

With its new shape, the waste paper can then be loaded on ships much more economically and shipped off to foreign countries. Once the cubes reach their destination, they are easily dissolved in water and made into pulp and eventually recycled paper.

The plant, when it is opened, will be able to handle about 3,000 tons of waste paper per month, Nelson said, or about 36,000 tons per year.

Collection of recyclable paper will be handled two ways. The first way will be to have organizations who collect newspapers to bring their supply of paper to the plant, where top dollar will be paid, he said.

The second method will be to have large collection bins set up at shopping centers and other locations, with the firm

The divisions of traditional art — painting, sculpture and architecture — have been dissolved; the concept of a single new industrial art has been created. The new theorists use new materials — polished alloys, perspex and plastics, electric motors and electric light.

"The Art Conservator" demonstrates how art objects, painting and sculpture are examined, treated and restored in the conservation laboratory of a great museum. The film was photographed in 1971 with the assistance of the conservator of the Los Angeles County Museum of Art and includes many techniques never before filmed.

THE TAX FACTS: You Be the Judge.

The Facts . . .

"The tax rate in eight of the 13 cities was reduced . . . the largest dollar and percentage increase occurred in El Cajon, 44.2 cents or 3.6 per cent."

—San Diego Taxpayers Association, Governmental Affairs Report

The Rhetoric . . .

"Dick Brown is the only candidate for Second District Supervisor who has lowered taxes . . . Lowering taxes is NOT simply a matter of waving a magic wand or mouthing comforting words."

—Dick Brown, El Cajon Councilman (Paid Political Ad, Daily Californian)

Dick, we're glad you agree with us that property taxes are the No. 1 issue of the 2nd Supervisorial District campaign.

Quite frankly, we're surprised—with your record—you mention taxes at all.

The fact of the matter is that, of 13 cities in the county, your city of El Cajon had the highest total tax increase of them all this year. Four times higher than the next closest city. All this when eight of the cities managed to lower their property taxes.

You claim you cut taxes in El Cajon this year, but you didn't tell the people you cut the tax rate by a grand total of one penny. Let's stop this doubletalk about tax rates. There's only one real question: Are my taxes higher—again—this year?

Did you tell the people that the same $24,000 house in El Cajon that had taxes of $739 in 1971 had taxes of $765 this year—a $26 INCREASE?

Is that lowering taxes?

(We don't know where you get your figures, Dick, but we're not afraid to tell. Ours are from the San Diego Taxpayers Association and the County Tax Collector.)

Of all the cities in the county, El Cajon has the second highest tax burden of them all. Someone's spending an awful lot of money, Dick.

When you announced for office, your campaign advertising said, "He'll have to fight against the runaway spenders and the tax gouge." Those are nice words and they get votes, Dick, but the record in El Cajon makes them just that—words.

We don't know what you've been telling the people of El Cajon, but we won't let you tell the citizens of the 2nd District one thing while you're doing another.

We think they have a right to know what the real Dick Brown record is.

Each bin would be sponsored by a local organization, such as a scout troop, who will receive payment for the paper collected.

Nelson noted that paper which is not recycled is costly not only to the environment, which loses trees to provide paper products, but also to local government, which must incur the costs of disposing of paper.

Over one third of solid waste in landfills is paper, he said. In San Diego County's unincorporated area, landfill operation and other solid waste disposal costs are $1.5 million per year, not including payment to refuse collection companies.

Chargers to be Hosted By Daryle Lamonica and George Blanda at Oakland

Joe Beauchamp, son of a preacher, kept the faith. As a good cornerback for the San Diego Chargers for most of the last six years, Beauchamp endured the fate of most good cornerbacks. His name would appear in the papers — as the guy who got beat on a touchdown pass. His picture would appear — as the guy chasing the receiver into the end zone.

To make Beauchamp's anonymity more painful would be broadcasters calling him bee-chum. The name, sir, is pronounced Bo-Champ!

But Joe Beauchamp kept the faith, played well and never complained. His reward came last week. Because of the knee injury to Chris Fletcher, Joe was moved to the free safety position. There was freedom. There were three interceptions and one 47-yard touchdown return for Beauchamp against the Denver Broncos as the Chargers roared, 37-14, last Sunday.

There even was the reward of his first "game ball" and the strange sight of a ring of reporters at his clubhouse cubicle.

"I've had some good games at cornerback, but it was hard for me to get three interceptions a year there," said Beauchamp, whose career interception total was 15 before the game. "Quarterbacks make cornerbacks grow old quickly. I am happy to be at safety."

From Charger defensive backfield coach Willie Wood, the Packer who wrote the book on how to play free safety, Beauchamp received this post-game rave review: "Joe has all the physical attributes to be a free safety, quickness, speed, fast feet, a lot of rhythm. He is an old veteran, a student of the game, a very intelligent player. He's got the ability, the experience and the dedication."

This Sunday, however, there will be no safety for Beauchamp and the San Diego pass defense.

The Chargers invade Oakland Coliseum to face the "Mad Bomber" of the Raiders, Daryle Lamonica and his generation gap understudies, green Ken Stabler and gray George Blanda. They must defend against Fred Biletnikoff, the NFL's top receiver of 1971; stellar tight end Raymond Chester and wing-footed rookies Mike Siani and Cliff Branch.

First of four road games for the Chargers, kickoff Sunday will be at 1 p.m. Charlie Jones and George Ratterman announce the telecast for NBC on KGTV-10. Stu Nahan and Ralph Lawler broadcast the game for KDEO and the Charger network.

Against Denver, San Diego intercepted six passes and sacked the quarterbacks five times in one of the team's best ever defensive performances. The team interceptions and the three by Beauchamp tied club records. There also was a blocked punt by Pettis Norman.

10,000 To Visit Zoo October 2

At least 10,000 visitors are expected to take advantage of free admittance to the San Diego Zoo Oct. 2, when the Zoo celebrates its annual Founder's Day.

Each year, on the first Monday in October, the Zoo honors the late Dr. Harry M. Wegeforth, founder of the world-famous attraction. All visitors are admitted free to the grounds from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Last year, more than 9,000 persons visited the Zoo on Founder's Day.

Children under 16 are always admitted free to the Zoo, but adults ordinarily pay $1.50 at the main entrance. Normal admission charges remain in effect for the Zoo's guided bus tour, Children's Zoo and Skyfari cable lift.

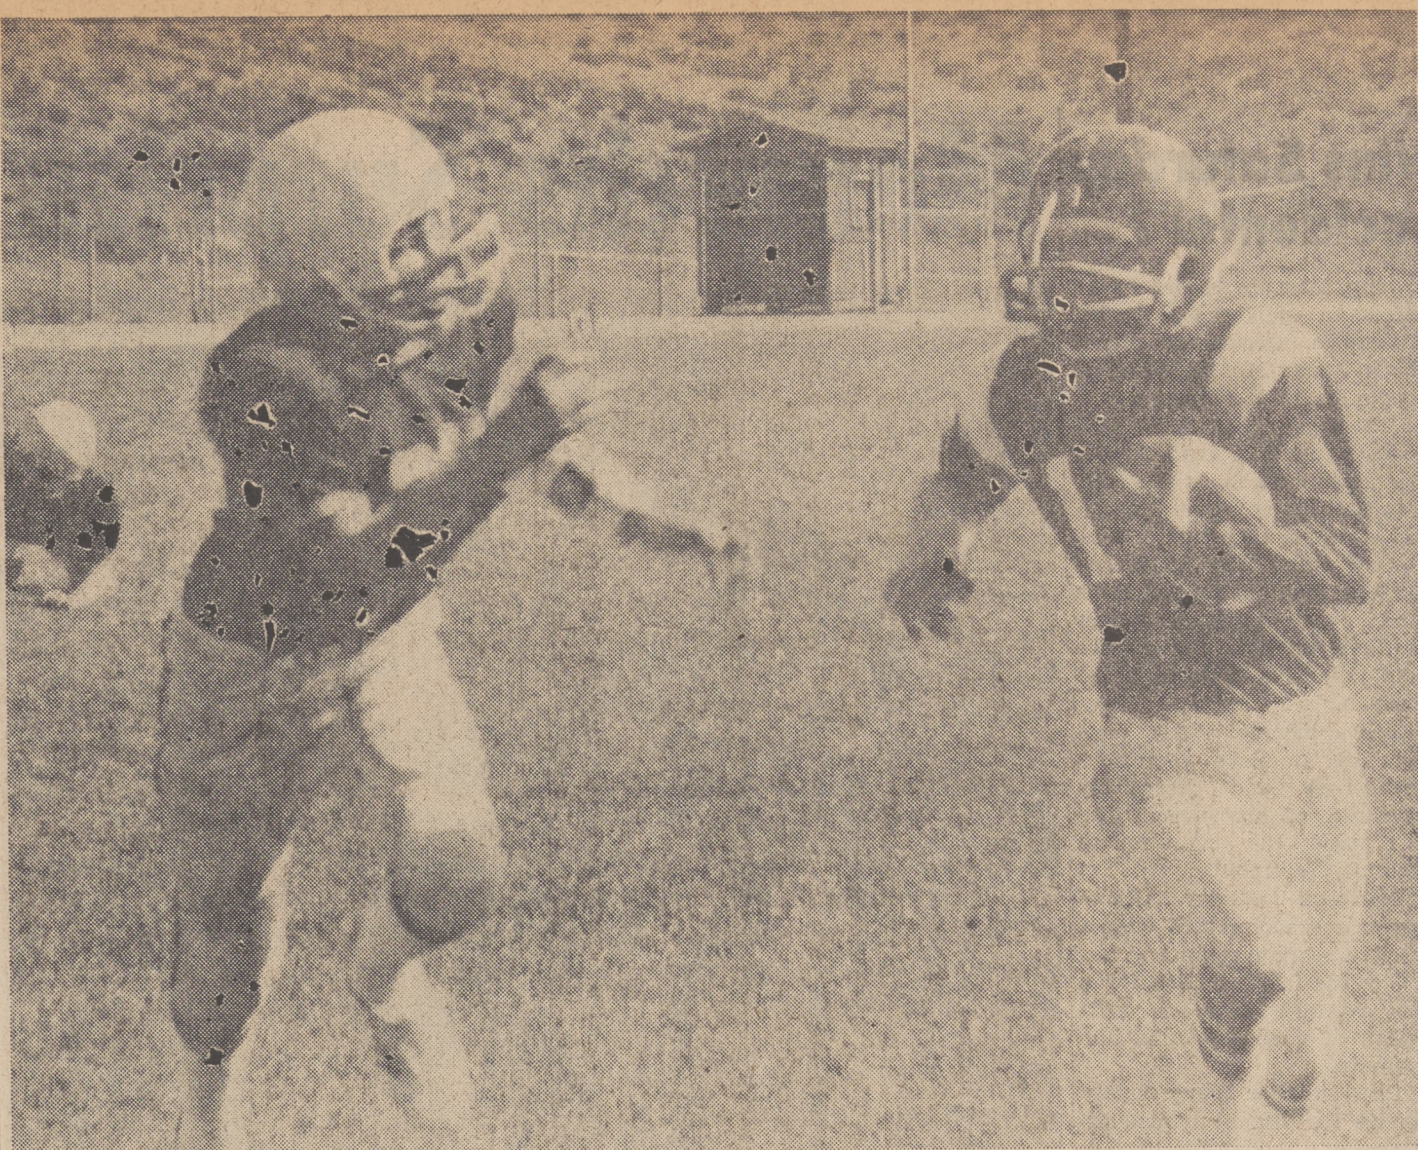

From its founding 56 years ago, the San Diego Zoo has become the world's largest collection of wild animals, exhibiting over 5,500 specimens. Many are considered rare or vanishing species.

Esperanto Class Held

A beginner's course in Esperanto meets Wednesday evenings, 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. at La Jolla Recreation Center, 615 Prospect, La Jolla. The class, taught by Frank Helmut, began yesterday and will continue through Dec. 27. A $2 registration fee will be charged.

Created in 1887 by Dr. L. L. Zamenhof, Esperanto is now spoken by ten million people in 89 countries. The spelling and pronunciation are absolutely phonetic.

Kent's Greg Kokal In to Stop Aztecs

Freshman quarterback Greg Kokal of Kent State University will be out to spoil San Diego State University's trip to the midwest Saturday, when the 17-year-old passer leads his mates against the Aztecs in a 1:30 p.m. football game at Kent's Memorial Stadium.

Saturday, both the Aztecs and the Golden Flashes posted wins. San Diego State stopped North Texas State 25-0 in Texas Stadium to run its record to 2-0 while Kent State nulled a big surprise, topping Ohio University 37-14.

Kokal passed for 190 yards and two touchdowns for Kent State against Ohio as the Flashes improved their record to 1-1-1. He hit 10 of 19 attempts to lead a brilliant second-half rally.

Saturday against North Texas State on the slippery Tartan Turf at Texas Stadium, the Aztecs rolled up 225 yards net on the ground — their biggest game on the ground since netting 227 yards against UC Santa Barbara in 1970.

The Aztecs have been so pass oriented over the past four years that they have gained 200 yards on the ground only five times while racking up over 300 yards passing 14 times, over 400 twice and over 500 twice.

Dennis Haughn was the biggest surprise in the North Texas game as the redshirt running back from Santa Ana gained 82 yards on 14 carries, caught two passes for 24 yards and scored two TD's.

Isaac Curtis had another big game as a receiver for San Diego, catching two passes, one for 44 yards and a score from Bill Donckers.

Deacon Makes 'Almost' Bet

Joe Beauchamp, that indomitable Charger quarterback who turned free safety after Chris Fletcher was injured last week, revealed that he has a bet going with Deacon Jones.

Deacon bet him that he would make two quarterback sacks for every interception Beauchamp made. He hadn't counted on the switch in position, though.

As all football fans know, Beauchamp tied the team's individual intercept record Sunday with three. Deacon got to his quarterback but once.

In the dressing room after the game Deacon reacted as would any guy who gets trapped in a bad bet.

"Beginning next week we're going to count 'almost sacks', too," Deacon told Beauchamp.

Joe, basking in the aura of sharing the intercept record, just smiled.

Ford, the company that built the first basic, solid, reliable car seventy years ago — has built today's basic, solid reliable car: Pinto. Rack-and-pinion steering. Solid welded body, electrocoated to fight corrosion. 4-speed transmission — lubed for life. Everything we've learned in seventy years of car making — all the basics — we build into every Pinto Wagon, Runabout and Sedan. When you get back to basics, you get back to Pinto.

Swarbrick, Trevelyan Join Gulls; Lose Oakes

Right winger George Swarbrick and centerman Tom Trevelyan have joined the San Diego Gulls in Trail, NS, Canada this week. The two have been at the Philadelphia Flyers (NHL) training camp.

Last season Swarbrick played 53 games for San Diego and scored 44 points with 25 goals and 19 assists. Hampered last season with injuries, a healthy Swarbrick will be a welcome addition to the Gulls forward line.

Trevelyan, 23, spent most of the 1971-72 season with the Seattle Totems. The young center played in 59 games last year, 12 of those with San Diego before his move to Seattle. Tom scored 13 goals and totaled 16 assists for the season.

The two will be on hand in San Diego, Thursday, October 5 when the Gulls return home to meet the Los Angeles Kings in the Sports Arena.

Here in San Diego Gull President Bob Breitbard announced the separation of veteran broadcaster Ron Oakes from the Gulls organization. Oakes, with the Gulls six years, has been the only voice the Gulls ever had. Breitbard said the decision was Oakes' own. Oakes said he was fired following a contract negotiating session. No replacement has been named.

Griffins to Play S'Western Saturday

The Grossmont Griffins, improving but still losing, will take a short jaunt to Southwestern College Saturday night, determined to turn the tide.

The record is 22-0 against Long Beach and 28-27 against San Bernardino. Momentum should make the Griffins the winner Saturday.

The Griffins played a good defense but three lapses were their undoing. Mike Rundle fired 29 for 13 completions.

Head coach Dave Jordan says the Griffins are ready for the battle.

Big Question

If U of SD Wins Saturday Will it be 'Occidental'?

The sweet taste of victory has been quickly tempered for the U of SD football team as the Toreros journey to Eagle Rock for a Saturday clash with Occidental College.

USD threw up a gutsy defense in the second half last week to outlast a highly favored Claremont team, 14-6 and must try to get another stout effort to contain Oxy.

The win evened USD's

Public Forum Series Opens Saturday Night

Grossmont College's Office of Community Services will open a four-part public forum series titled "Bridges to Understanding," at 8 p.m. Saturday in the Fine Arts Recital Hall, when noted Danish author, explorer and documentary film producer, Jens Bjerre, discusses "China, the Awakening Giant."

Other nationally known authorities who will appear during the public forum series include Donald Warden who will propose a permanent solution to the race question October 6; Trevor Paige who will speak on "Cuba — Behind the Headlines" October 20 and Bettina Shaw who will discuss "Ireland, the Unpredictable" October 27.

Bjerre, presently a producer for Danish national television, has also worked as a correspondent and political writer for a Copenhagen newspaper. A Fellow of the Royal Geographic Society, London, he has led expeditions to Asia, Africa and Australia.

The public is invited to hear an authority on Asia discuss China, the most recent country to become a nuclear power. There is no charge for admission.

Legal Course Opens

A free course in "Practical Legal Problems" is being offered in the adult education school program at Hoover High School, 4474 El Cajon Blvd., San Diego.

Bernard Revak, deputy district attorney, is the class instructor. The course provides information on every day legal pitfalls, according to Revak. It includes legal information on property transactions, community property laws, wills and estates, contracts and consumer fraud.

The course is given on Wednesdays, from 7 to 9:30 p.m., and will continue for the whole school year.

young seasonal record at 1-1 after an opening loss to UC Riverside. Occidental turned back Azusa Pacific, 14-13, to begin its 1972 campaign.

The Tigers posted only a 3-6 won-lost record last year but managed a 3-1 mark in Southern Cal Intercollegiate Conference play to take title honors.

Oxy coach Bob Black had 30 lettermen out for fall drills and every probable starter but one on both the offense and defensive units is a letterman.

USD mentor Andy Vinci has had to make alterations offensively and defensively because of his small squad but used the right moves against Claremont.

Halfback Sammy Croom broke a school record with a 90-yard scoring romp and has 198 yards in 20 carries for a 9.9 average. He is 141 yards ahead of runnerup John McNamara.

Passer-runner Henry Sintay directs the offense at quarterback and although his 15 completions in 36 attempts is good for only a .417 percentage he has shown improvement.

Season to End This Weekend For Padres

The Padres complete their 1972 home season this weekend by offering their fans three year-end specials.

Team Photo Night Friday. Unused Ticket Night Saturday and the annual Fan Appreciation Day Sunday accompany the three-game series with the Astros.

And, of course, there's the on-the-field attempt of Nate Colbert to capture the major league home run title. Nate has Cincinnati's Johnny Bench and the White Sox's Rich Allen to consider as he sets his sights on what could be the first league title ever captured by a Padre player.

Once again the popular Team Photo night will provide every person attending Friday night's (7:30) opener with a full-color team photo of the Padres.

This 11 by 14 picture, autographed by all the Padre players, is suitable for framing. Photo Night is sponsored by the Union-Tribune Publishing Company.

Then on Saturday all unused tickets from any Padre home game this season may be exchanged for an equally priced ticket to that night's contest.

The exchange privileges also includes Little Swinger, Ladies Night and Senior Citizens tickets.

Then the great windup on Sunday when more than 100 prizes will be awarded to Padre fans.

The gifts include a trip to Hawaii, with air transportation on United and five-day stay at the Sheraton Surfside Hotel.

There's luggage from the Samsonite Corp., a $500 Packard-Bell stereo console, a $300 Westinghouse portable dishwasher, a $200 Strato-Lounger chair from Sears and gift certificates for clothing, entertainment and food.

Fan Appreciation Day is a dandy way to say so-long to the 1972 baseball season and at the same time give yourself a chance at winning a valuable gift.

Tickets for all three games are available now at the Padres Stadium ticket windows open daily from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Monarchs Surprise CIF Champs

RUNNING ROOM — Monte Vista cross country super star Gary Close, center, tries to work his way to the front as runners approach the "big hill" on Monte Vista's new 2.1 mile course which includes portions of the Rancho San Diego development of Sweetwater Village. Close made his move on the hill and later led a 1-2-3 sweep with Mike McGrath and Tom Wendt, as Monte Vista surprised the defending CIF champion Clairemont Chieftains, 19-38.

Mats Overcome Fumbles To Notch Victory, 7-3

Despite losing three fumbles and a difficult time getting its offense on track, Mt. Miguel's football team rallied in the third period to knock off a stubborn Mission Bay squad, 7-3 Friday night in the pre-season opener at Mt. Miguel.

Though favored heavily, Mt. Miguel got off to a sputtering start by fumbling the ball on the first play from scrimmage after taking the opening kickoff. Mission Bay could penetrate no further than the Matador 22-yard line, however, and attempted a field goal from that point, but failed.

Given a second chance to live up to pre-season hopes, the Matadors took over again and started driving. Another fumble was costly, though, as the Buccaneers recovered and drove to the Matador 14-yard line, where Guy Beach booted a three-pointer.

The remainder of the second half was dominated by the defensive units from each school, except for one long Mt. Miguel drive, which ended in a fumble with the Matadors just one foot from the Buccaneer goal line.

The second half was a different story for the local team, as Mike Benson intercepted a Mission Bay pass to start things off on a good note.

Matador quarterback Jess Jenner moved the team into Buc territory before an interception ended the drive. Mt. Miguel's defense put on an exceptional performance at that point, as Mission Bay was forced to punt moments later. A blocked punt set up the

Close Leads 1-2-3 Sweep Of Clairemont

Close was the word last Friday afternoon to describe the season opener cross country match between defending CIF champion Clairemont and the county's best team, Monte Vista.

Not to say that the 19-38 Monte Vista victory was a close one, but rather the race was won by Close — Gary Close, who led a 1-2-3 sweep over the new 2.1-mile Monarch course.

Close, who sat back in the pack for the first three quarters of a mile, moved to the front in the race as the runners started up the first of a series of steep hills, then coasted home in 10:24.

Right behind Close all the way were Mike McGrath, who finished second, and Tom Wendt, who finished third, just two seconds after the winner.

Following the top three runners, spectators had time to watch a couple of football plays in a game held concurrently with the race, before Clairemont's top runner, Mark Malec, came to the finish line.

After Malec and teammate Mark Odom crossed the line, Tim Hughes and Dan Wendt finished to complete the Monte Vista scoring.

With the victory, Monte Vista established itself as the premier team in the county, not to mention the Grossmont League.

Five other league teams were in action Friday, but none looked particularly impressive.

Granite Hills tied for the victory with San Diego in a triangular meet with Morse at Granite Hills. The Eagles looked pretty good against fair competition, but suffered from poor grouping between their top four men.

Santana was the middle team in another triangle meet with powerhouse Kearny and a mediocre Mar Vista team. The Sultans will be little competition for the league title.

El Capitan looked good against a poor Point Loma team, though losing, 26-29. Greg Beck looked good in the victory and the team does have fair grouping.

Helix was the middle team in a triangle with Madison and Crawford, and the Highlanders could be a competitive team.

Grossmont may field the best team in school history based on a 26-29 loss to Patrick Henry. The Hillers had four men within 40 seconds of one another.

Two teams were inactive last week, Mt. Miguel and El Cajon. Mt. Miguel has two top runners, two fair runners, and the rest sophomores. Unless a sophomore surprises for the Mats, they can't hope to threaten Monte Vista. El Cajon has yet to show its wares, but is expected to be in the area of second or third place.

Local Firm Gets Contract

The Financial Square Company has awarded a $720,000 contract to U. S. Elevator Corporation, of Springfield Valley, for the installation of elevators in its 24-story office tower building.

U. S. Elevator, a wholly-owned subsidiary of Cubic Corporation, has been given the contract to build and install eleven elevators in the high-rise building.

"The elevators, which will include the fastest in San Diego, will be operated by the newest solid-state electronic control systems to move people the full height of the building in 30 seconds," according to Paul Thomas of Thomas Fletcher-Nicol Company, leasing agent for Financial Square.

U. S. Elevator will design and build all the Financial Square equipment at the new plant in the industrial area of Rancho San Diego.

A 30-year home mortgage of $30,000 at 7 1/2 per cent interest calls for monthly payments of $204.

New Hotel in Tijuana Is Unique and Plush

By Max Goodwin

There are many unusual things in Tijuana to attract the gringo. One of the finer attractions is the Hotel Conquistador which was the center of a mini-open house last week.

The "showing" was in the hotel's new Taurus Discotheque, a cocktail-dance lounge that is no less unique than other parts of the hotel.

The 75-room hotel is on Blvd. Agua Caliente near the greyhound track and opposite the Tijuana golf club. It was built at the reported cost of $1 1/2 million by 28-year-old Alphonso Bustamante. Hardly finished with the facility, Bustamante is already negotiating for the construction of four more exactly like this one. They'll be at Ensenada, San Felipe, Mexicali, and La Paz.

And at the same time he will expand the one in Tijuana. The hotel is designed and furnished in authentic Spanish Colonial. All expect the discotheque. The hotel's halls are outside balconies in the early Spanish manner. Chairs in the hotel have backspindles higher than a man is tall. The furniture throughout are collector's pieces. The service is polite.

and efficient. And there are other modern touches, too.

For example, there is the hotel's pool with a swim-in bar. The bartender stands in a water-tight water-high well. The bar is at water level and the bar stools are underwater and low enough that only the swimmer-drinkers' shoulders are above water.

The dining room, Don Quixota, is Spanish formal although menu prices are not high. Most beef choices are below $6.

But the "opening" concerned the discotheque, mostly. In it Bustamante has nearly $20,000 worth of electronic equipment — equal to that in a modern radio station. The equipment is used to fill the room with music from tapes and recordings. It also operates, the psychedelic fashion, spotlights in the ceiling over the transparent dance floor and vari-colored lights beneath it. An attractive Spanish female "engineer" operates the electronic console. Some weirdly-shaped silver mobiles behind the bar add to psychedelic. "It can blow your mind," one guest said.

One of the room's walls is made up of 17,000 small rectangular mirrors hunk like drapes. Another wall is formed of free-hanging two-inch ceiling to floor strips of plate glass interspersed with long tubes housing tiny lights — several thousand of them. All of the furnishings are plush including the deep pile rugs. Bustamante, whose family has operated Tijuana's propane gas industry for more than 30 years, attended San Diego State College following completion of his studies at the University of Monterey in Mexico.

As a matador he has dispatched more than 200 bulls and suffered gorings twice. He will appear as on eight bullfighters Sunday at the Bullring by the Sea in a bullfight festival. The proceeds of the corrida will go to the Children's Hospital of Tijuana under the sponsorship of Project Concern.

Auxiliary To Meet Oct. 5

Ladies Auxiliary Fleet Reserve Association Unit 139 will hold its regular Business meeting Oct. 5 at 8 p.m. in the American Legion Hall, 8118 University ave., La Mesa with Marie Hill presiding.

The officers and board of the auxiliary will be hostesses at a membership tea Oct. 27, at 1 p.m. The affair will take place in the home of the vice-president and membership chairman Mrs. Stanley Chester at 4513 Patricia dr., San Diego.

All members are encouraged to attend and to bring a prospective member.

Willey To Be Honored

Saturday, September 30, ladies of the auxiliaries of the First District Veterans of Foreign Wars, along with the 36 Posts, will honor the homecoming of State VFW Commander, Dale Willey, of Lemon Grove.

On the evening of October 14, ladies of the First District VFW will go to Gardena to honor the homecoming of State of California VFW President Lois Johnson.

Reservations Expected For Duck Season

Advance reservations for the San Diego City Lakes 1972-73 split season Waterfowl Hunting Program will be taken by the Park and Recreation Department's Lakes Division beginning today for the first half season and November 22 for the second half season.

The first half runs from October 7 through November 18. The second half runs from December 2 through January 20. Reservations can be made in person today and November 22 only, at the Balboa Park Club, Balboa Park, from 8 a.m. to 10 a.m. After 10 a.m., reservations may be made, in person, at the Park and Recreation Department, City Operations Bldg., 5th floor, 1222 First ave. All blinds at each city lake are subject to advance reservations.

Participating lakes are: Lower Otay, with approximately 20 blinds open Tuesdays and Saturdays — a total of 26 hunting days; Sutherland, with 11 blinds open Saturdays — 15 hunting days; and Barrett, with six blinds open Sundays for a total of 14 hunting days. Barrett will also operate on opening day, Saturday, of both halves of the split season.

Security Pacific Bank Opens

A new landmark to San Diego's rapidly emerging central skyline — Security Pacific National Bank's state 18-story regional headquarters — completed Monday the final quarter of the city's multimillion dollar Community Concourse into one "superblock" bounded by A and C streets and First and Third avenues.

Dedication ceremonies signaled the final phase of the concourse, the largest redevelopment project in the city's history.

guests, all of whom were area residents, was the growing recreational conglomerate which has become a natural and popular adjunct to the burgeoning storage, distribution and pumping systems.

Griffen said five benefits will result from the planned improvement and expansion.

1 — when northern water is mixed with Colorado 18 months from now, a decided reduction in hardness will be noted in the local product.

2 — the site of a new filtration plant to be installed at the Auld Valley dam near Temecula. This will reduce the need for an expanded plant at Helix — a project which would be an added burden to the local taxpayer.

3 — projects being completed and already funded will help avert a run-away water cost for the foreseeable future. Griffen said water costs should now increase no faster than the rate of inflation.

4 — other projects will alleviate the flooding that devastates areas in the west San Joaquin Valley from time to time.

5 — more recreation land will be opened for local residents. $17 million budgeted for Perris will make it one of the southland's most popular ones.

Sheriff John F. Duffy, declaring law enforcement's future in the county should not be left to chance, has endorsed Gene French for supervisor in the Second District.

"Gene French is a solid supporter of the type of law enforcement we need in San Diego," Duffy said. "He's interested in innovative programs for the county, but not at the expense of strong enforcement of our laws."

Said Duffy, "Some persons might question the sheriff getting involved in a race for the board. It's easy to understand, though, when you know the facts."

"The people of San Diego County elected me and charged me with providing the best possible law enforcement. County Supervisors have direct control over the sheriff's budget and therefore, the kind of supervisors we elect reflects directly on what kind of law enforcement we'll have."

French, called Duffy's backing a "significant endorsement for the campaign."

"John Duffy is a respected, 20 year veteran of law enforcement in San Diego," said French. "We're honored to have his support."

French also has the endorsement of Bill Clements, former candidate for Second District supervisor and executive director of the San Diego County Deputy Sheriff's Association.

Incorporation May Be Tried By Lemon Grove Youth Group

The new activity at the Lemon Grove Youth Center is that of trying to incorporate organization as a non-profit group — which it is.

If they are successful, it will probably be next year before the project is completed.

The youngsters who converge on the Center weekly are still seeking jobs, such as circular delivery, car washing, clean-up work and painting.

The only fun project on the agenda is a helicopter trip a couple of them will take Friday. It is a fall-out of the togetherness that has come from lob-ball competition between the local sheriff's office and the Center youngsters.

Dale Wood, Center director, said he would pit his team — both boys and girls — against either the Lemon Grove Firemen, or again against the Sheriff's Lemon Grove Aces.

This newspaper's campaign which feeds a half dollar back into the Center's Operating Fund when new subscribers pay up, is gaining momentum again after a vacation let down.

L.G. Crusade Volunteers To Attend Kick Off Gala

Lemon Grove United Crusade volunteers will participate with six other East County area communities in a no-host breakfast October 4. The affair, which officially kicks off the annual Crusade campaign, will be held at 7:30 a.m. in the Community Room at Sears, El Cajon.

Master of ceremonies for the affair will be Craig Knudson, manager of the United California Bank in El Cajon, who is the East County area chairman for the Crusade.

Principal speaker will be James F. Mulvaney, general chairman for the 1972 San Diego countywide United Crusade. He is vice-president of the United States National Bank organization and has been involved with United Community Services for the past decade. Mulvaney was a leader in the recent re-organization of UCS.

Others taking part in the meeting will be Vincent Cruz, El Cajon Sears store manager who is the East and South Counties area Crusade chairman; and Mrs. Lucille Moore of El Cajon who is the East County area vice-chairman.

To enliven the breakfast kick-off, a high school band combo will furnish music, two Miss Fair Share girls from local communities will serve as hostesses along with the four Inland area Crusade leaders by Mrs. Harold Roll of Santee.

Following the breakfast and meeting, a tour will be made to this year's East County United Crusade office located in the new Parkway Plaza shopping center. Space was donated to the Crusade by the Parkway Plaza management.

The office will be open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. during the months of October and November and will be staffed by a secretary and two loaned executives who will be calling on the larger business firms and organizations throughout the entire East County area.

Lemon Grove will be represented at the kick-off by community chairman Robert Guest, division chairmen James Boyd, Rita Wells, John Owen, James Frederickson, Dr. Harry Sorteberg, and newly recruited campaigners to be introduced.

Brown Slaps Supervisors for MV Welfare Lease Scandal

Dick Brown, candidate for Board of Supervisors in the Second District, has attacked the board's decision to retain a 15-year $4.5 million lease for a welfare office in Mission Valley.

Brown spoke at a dinner meeting of the Republican Federated Women's Club of College Gardens.

"It is inconceivable that the Board of Supervisors would approve a commitment for a $4.5 million long-term lease without competitive bidding," Brown said.

"This is not a matter of having to occupy space on short notice. The loan on the building apparently hasn't even been approved yet."

Brown said the people have a right to expect more intelligent planning and integrity from their elected officials.

"If I were a member of the Board of Supervisors, I would never vote for such a large expenditure without a thorough public review and competitive bidding," he said.

He said the lease is a financial plum for the developer and questioned whether it is a payoff for campaign contributions.

"If all elected officials were required to make full personal financial disclosures and list campaign contributors and the amounts contributed, then the people would be able to judge whether something like this lease is a payoff for a political contribution or political support," he said.

Official opening of Brown's La Mesa headquarters, Spring and Lemon will be held 4-7 tonight.

On Friday, Brown and his opponent, Gene French, in the race will speak to members of the Eucalyptus Hills Landowners Association at an 8 p.m. meeting at Lakeside Farms Elementary School, 11915 Lakeside ave.

Trees on 4.3 million acres were damaged or destroyed by fires last year.
